Summary

I am an emerging artist working in kiln-formed glass. I began my journey in glass by working with stained glass in the early 1990s. With a desire to create my own beads for jewelry in 2009, I discovered kiln-formed (or fused) glass and have pursued this artistic avenue with a passion ever since. I create my art in my home studio in Northern Utah.

In my full-time job, I work as a Software Product Manager for a scientific instrumentation company. When I am not pursuing art or working, I enjoy spending time outdoors hiking, biking, and taking pictures. My love of nature greatly influences my work, and the scientific aspects of working with glass fulfills my left-brained tendencies for logic and process.

Education

While I am largely self-taught, I have also studied under some of the finest glass artists from around the world, many of whom were early pioneers in the studio glass movement. These artists include:

- David Alcala
- Dennis Brady
- Jane Bruce
- Michael Dupille
- Patty Gray
- Barry Kaiser
- Petra Kaiser
- Richard La Londe
- Bob Leatherbarrow
- Janet Schrader
- Janine Stillman
- Gail Stouffer
- Paul Tarlow
- Phil Teefy
- Lisa Vogt
